STATINTL

Dear [Redacted]

Thank you very much for all your help in planning and coordinating last week's briefing sessions between the International Fellows and officials of the CIA. Each year, the Fellows' visit to the CIA is one of the highlights of the trip, and this year was no exception — the briefings were extremely stimulating and interesting.

I am sorry you were unable to meet with this year's Fellows. However, I hope that future classes of Fellows will have the opportunity to meet with you and other CIA officials on similar occasions. Again, let me express our sincere appreciation for your efforts.

Cordially,

Bela Szigethy
Assistant to the Director

Dear [REDACTED]

Let me take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to you for taking time out from your busy schedule to meet with the International Fellows on March 21. The Fellows (even the incredulous!) found the briefing session extremely worthwhile and stimulating and are grateful for your contribution to its success.

I hope you enjoyed meeting the Fellows and that future classes of Fellows will also have the opportunity to visit the CIA for similar discussions. Thank you again.

Sincerely,

Bela Szigethy

New York, New York 10027

Dear Ms. Szigethy:

Things look very good for your 21 March 1980, 2:00-4:00 pm visit to the Central Intelligence Agency.

When you arrive at the Agency have the guard at the gate direct your bus to the Auditorium. Your Columbia University ID cards will be all the identification necessary.

STATINTL

I am sorry that I will not be able to meet personally with your group, but I will be attending the International Studies Association meeting on 18-22 March. A [] will be your host. As it stands now, the first speaker will be Mr. [] Director of the National Foreign Assessment Center. He will speak on the CIA and intelligence process for about 15 minutes and spend the rest of the hour answering questions. The second hour will be a question and answer period on world political, economic and military affairs. Three or four Agency area specialists will participate.

STATINTL

Please ask your fellow students not to bring cameras or tape recorders with them.

STATINTL

Dear Mr. [redacted]

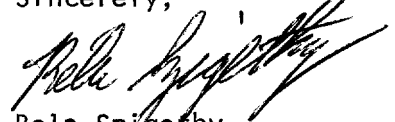

Enclosed you will find the names and Social Security numbers of the Columbia University International Fellows with U.S. citizenship who will be taking part in the CIA briefing scheduled for March 21, 1980 from 2:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon. As requested, foreign-national members of the program will not be in attendance. Please let me know if any additional information is needed.

Also enclosed are additional informational brochures for the officials conducting the briefings, who may wish to familiarize themselves with the Fellows Program. We would appreciate your sending us biographical sketches of the officials attending the briefings or any other current information which may help the Fellows prepare for the visit.

The Director of the Fellows Program, Dean Robert F. Randle, is planning to return to New York prior to our Friday afternoon CIA briefing. However, both student Assistants to the Director, William Long and myself, will be in attendance. Please advise if these arrangements will cause any difficulties.

Finally, could you inform me of the exact procedures to follow when we arrive at the CIA, i.e., where to go, who to meet, and what identification to have ready? (Note: Columbia University ID cards show the student's name, Social Security number, and photograph.) Thank you very much for all your help.

Sincerely,

Bela Szilaghy

STATINTL

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Twice each year the International Fellows of Columbia University go to Washington to meet with policy-makers active in the field of foreign affairs. As you may recall, the fellows have met with Central Intelligence Agency officials on more than one occasion, the last being in the fall of 1978. That briefing and panel discussion was considered to be the highlight of the trip by many of the Fellows in attendance. This spring the Fellows will be in Washington again on March 20 and 21 and are interested in meeting with CIA officials, preferably during the afternoon of March 21.

The International Fellows are fifty of Columbia's most promising graduate students, selected for their achievements and leadership potential. They represent such academic and professional fields as political science, law, history, business and journalism, and participate in a unique interdisciplinary course in international politics and U.S. foreign policy. Enclosed is a current bulletin describing in further detail the Fellows and their activities. Please write or call if you have any additional inquiries to make.

We hope that the success of the 1978 meeting between the Fellows and CIA officials can be duplicated. This year's Fellows would certainly consider it a valuable and rewarding experience.

Cordially,

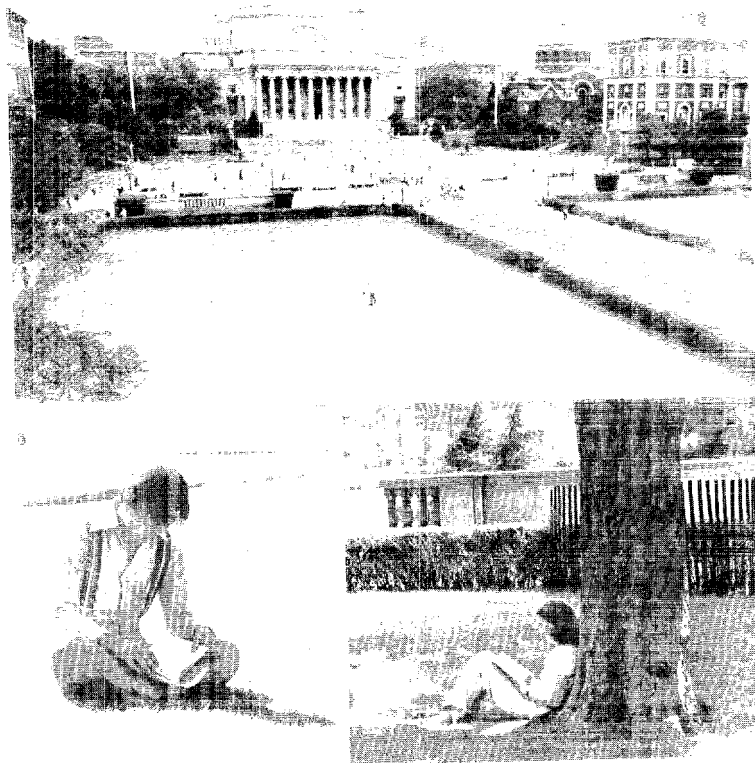

Bela Szigethy
Assistant to the Director
